#29) [50% saw:] The Democratic candidate says we should join every other major country on Earth and guarantee health care to everyone as a right, not a privilege, through Medicare for All, which would transition every American from private insurance to a single government-run plan that would allow people to keep their doctor. The Republican candidate says the Affordable Care Act has caused premiums to skyrocket and that we should increase health care choice for individuals and protect patients with pre-existing conditions. Do these statements make you:

46	More likely to vote for the Democrat
48	More likely to vote for the Republican
6	No difference

#30) [50% saw:] The Democratic candidate says we should provide high quality, affordable insurance to millions more Americans through a public option, which will allow Americans to buy a Medicare-like plan, while allowing people to keep their private insurance if they like it. The Republican candidate says the Affordable Care Act has caused premiums to skyrocket and that we should increase health care choice for individuals and protect patients with pre-existing conditions. Do these statements make you:

46	More likely to vote for the Democrat
44	More likely to vote for the Republican
9	No difference

#31) [50% saw:] The Democratic candidate says that we should end Trump's inhumane detention and deportation policies and provide a pathway to citizenship for the 11 million undocumented immigrants who live, work, and raise families in our communities. We should also repeal the law that makes it a criminal, rather than civil, offense when people are apprehended entering the US, and provide health insurance to undocumented immigrants whose care we currently pay for in taxes when they go to the Emergency Room. The Republican candidate says illegal immigrants are taking American jobs and making America less safe, which is why we have to make our laws tougher and build a border wall. Do these statements make you:

47	More likely to vote for the Democrat
46	More likely to vote for the Republican
6	No difference

#32) [50% saw:] The Democratic candidate says that we should end Trump’s inhumane detention and deportation policies and provide a pathway to citizenship for those who live, work, and raise families in our communities. We should also do whatever’s necessary to protect our borders and fix our broken immigration system. The Republican candidate says illegal immigrants are taking American jobs and making America less safe, which is why we have to make our laws tougher and build a border wall. Do these statements make you:

49	More likely to vote for the Democrat
47	More likely to vote for the Republican
4	No difference

#33) [50% saw:] The Democratic candidate says that the dark history of slavery and government-sanctioned discrimination has undermined black families’ ability to build wealth for generations, and we must address it with systemic changes, including reparations. The Republican candidate says that the Trump administration has accomplished an incredible amount on racial inequality, with unemployment among African Americans and Latinos at record lows. Do these statements make you:

38	More likely to vote for the Democrat
49	More likely to vote for the Republican

13	No difference
----	---------------

#34) [50% saw:] The Democratic candidate says that we must address racial inequality by investing in job creation and education, ending redlining and housing discrimination, and focusing federal resources on communities that need them most. 44	More likely to vote for the Democrat
----	--------------------------------------

47	More likely to vote for the Republican
9	No difference

#40) The Democratic candidate says that it has become clear that Donald Trump obstructed justice and broke the law, and Congress has a moral and legal responsibility to hold him accountable by beginning the process of conducting impeachment hearings. The Republican candidate says that Democrats are engaged in a witch hunt against Donald Trump, who has done nothing wrong, and that they're still bitter over losing the election to him in 2016. Do these statements make you:

46	More likely to vote for the Democrat
45	More likely to vote for the Republican
8	No difference

#41) [50% saw:] The Democratic candidate says that we must take common sense steps to slow the gun violence epidemic, like requiring background checks for all gun purchases and ban the sale of military-style assault weapons. The Republican candidate says that Democrats are trying to take away guns from responsible adults, and that it is crucial that we protect our 2nd Amendment rights. Do these statements make you:

48	More likely to vote for the Democrat
----	--------------------------------------

45	More likely to vote for the Republican
7	No difference

#42) [50% saw:] The Democratic candidate says that owning a gun should require a license, just like driving a car does, to make sure only responsible citizens, and not those with ill intent, can purchase firearms. The Republican candidate says that Democrats are trying to take away guns from responsible adults, and that it is crucial that we protect our 2nd Amendment rights. Do these statements make you:
